

It's my opinion that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home by practically eliminating the telemarketing phone calls I was receiving. I no longer have to turn the ringer off on my phone at night. I feel like I have my privacy back and don't want to lose it again.